Life Diaries

Legacy, heritage and family traditions are very important to our family relationships. How can these precious bits of wisdom and tradition be passed from generation to generation? Flying Arrow Productions has the answer. It is a video Life Diary. A Life Diary is a video interview where you talk about your life, share special memories, talk about your parents and grandparents, convey your especially happy moments, tell why you married the spouse that you did, recount how they felt the day your first child was born, tell why you chose your career, share wisdom for future generations, & communicate very intimate and personal messages to loved ones. The interview is conducted all in the comfort and privacy of your own home, wood shop, sewing room or wherever you feel most comfortable. We bring the video studio to you. We will ask questions that your family hasn't thought of to help you recall all the things you want to share.

This kind of a look-back-at-my-life video isn't reserved for the elderly either. In fact, it's a great way of taking a snap shot of anytime in life. Wouldn't it be fun when you are 80 to look back at your Life Diary from the day you graduated high school and see how you envisioned the world when you were 18 or, on your 25th wedding anniversary to look back at how you saw your future together the day you were married?

Ask your beloved family member to make a Life diary for you. Can't you just picture Grandma sitting in her rocker knitting a scarf as she begins to talk about her life? Isn't that a memory you want your great grandchildren to see? We will professionally film and edit the interview; add photos and music, and create what will most certainly become a treasured family keepsake. Memories fade with time. Preserve them today.
